THE "wets" carried Pemiscot county last week, after a four-year season of dryness.

EDWARD T. EVERSOLE announces as a candidate for Circuit Judge. We will make more extended reference thereto next week.

THE Rooseveltian worshippers have this week been putting to shame the old country half-way sycophants and adulationists.

THERE is too much resort to the "fraud order" short-cut for the correction of corporation and other abuses which should be dealt with in the courts. As the St. Louis Star says, "We ought to be able to regulate corporations and protect the people from their fraudulent manipulation without being compelled to do it through the arbitrary act of some official who is in a position to be as arbitrary in acting unjustly as when he is right."

OUR noble Governor has again placed himself under the limelight—this time with a project to re-district the State, Senatorially, by constitutional amendment. O, but Herbey is resourceful and versatile! He will make you an issue while you wait, and his Press Bureau—right there in the Mansion—will do the rest before you can bat your eyes. Resourceful? Well, the deep flow of the mighty Amazon draws not so ample a reservoir as fountain-heads the Hadleyan output.

Des Arc Items.

Hon. Walter Hensley, candidate for Congress, was a visitor here last week. He made a very favorable impression on the people of Des Arc and vicinity. He was also out to see the people at Brunot. Mr. Hensley is a bright young lawyer and was formerly located at Greenville. He is well known to the people of Wayne county. Mr. Hensley once defeated Polite Elvins for prosecuting attorney of St. Francois county. I believe he will carry this end of the county solid.

W. T. O'Neal, ex-county clerk and a Des Arc boy, visited us last week. We were more than glad to see him and his dear companion, who was a Des Arc girl, and a daughter of the late Dr. Raney.

Rev. Hammond, a Holiness divine, held services here Sunday. He is quite a theologian. In part, he said if there was a man in the house who had not told a lie to please stand up; but no one stood up. He said that he had made the same proposition to a congregation in Tennessee some years ago and two men stood. He said: "let us kneel in prayer, for there are the two biggest liars in the house." When the curtain fell they were gone. He also said that the man who did not believe in sanctification ought to be bored for the hollow horn.

C. L. Stevenson and Winford, Mrs. W. J. Fitz, Miss Allie Fitz, Mrs. C. L. Williams and Miss Ethel Morris of Farmington attended the commencement exercises at Arcadia College Thursday. Miss Marie, daughter of C. L. Stevenson, who is a student at the college, took part in the musical programme. She received a medal for scholarship. She is an accomplished young lady, and is doing nicely in her school work. Miss Marie did some fine china painting last week. Her display in the art room was excellent. The young ladies had a fine display in art and the entire programme was interesting. This is a most excellent school for young ladies.

Mrs. Alice Leeper came up from Mill Springs last week to attend the funeral of Judge Hay.

Miss Ethel Morris from Farmington is visiting her grandparents here.

The Davis family have returned from the south, where they have been holding a revival.

Mrs. Jeff Cain has returned to her home at Illmo, accompanied by Miss Lottie Eustis. She has been visiting Mrs. Eustis the past two weeks.

Rev. Judy will preach at the M. E. church Monday night.

I attended the funeral of Judge Wm. Hay at Brunot last Wednesday. It was the largest country funeral I ever saw—85 wagons and buggies, and the cortege a half mile long. At least 500 people were present. They came from Fredericktown, Ironton, Des Arc, Piedmont and Greenville. Mr. Hay left his family well provided with this world's goods. His farm is worth $10,000; there are 50 head of hogs, 180 sheep, 40 head of cattle. He made a will three years ago, leaving all of his property to his wife. The funeral was conducted by Revs. Judy and Kistler. Bro. Hay was a devout Christian and had been a consistent member of the Methodist church for more than twenty years. May God help and protect his dear family!

The people of Sabula are arranging to celebrate the 4th of July in an unusual way. There will be a basket dinner on the church grounds and ice cream will be served the Sunday School.

We will have preaching on the grounds and if arrangements can be made will have the church dedicated. Just who will preach is not yet known but will give full particulars next week. We want everybody to come and have a good time.

S. Shy and wife, of Tom Sauk, spent Sunday in Sabula.

Mrs. C. Collins and daughter, Hazel, went to Ironton Tuesday.

Miss Mae Collins will go to Piedmont this evening to visit relatives.

What is so rare as a day in June?

Sunday, June 19th, certainly was a red-letter day for the country surrounding Edge Hill.

The Holiness tent meetings have been in progress for the past ten days—conducted by Rev. W. W. Strother with his wife and daughter, and Mr. Mitchell and Misses Ora Lovelace, Lina Farr and Avis Shelton, all of Des Arc. The day time meetings are attended by a few devoted Christians and some seekers after the truth as it is in Christ Jesus. The meetings at night bring out such crowds that the tent will not hold them all. The singing is spirited and devotional with little Miss Zella Strother presiding at the organ or playing softly and sweetly on her guitar.

Who was it said the groves were God's first temples? On Sunday, at an early hour the people began gathering in the leafy grove eager to hear the word of God. They came from twenty miles in every direction—on horseback, on foot, in carriages, and by the wagon load, bringing dinner with them. A low estimate would place the crowd at 800, by far the largest number ever assembled in that region. Before preaching began a collection was taken up to pay the expenses of the workers, and then a proposition to build a church resulted in subscriptions to the amount of $200 in a few minutes, which is a fair beginning. The house will be built immediately and will be interdenominational. The Sunday sermon by Rev. Strother on "Purity of the heart" as taught by all orthodox churches without spot or wrinkle resulted in a great shaking of the dry bones, believers were strengthened, and sinners brought to see the error of their ways. Several have professed entire sanctification and their lives are showing forth the truth of their professions. After services were over dinner was served on the grounds and such a dinner!—sure the inner man was satisfied. (So were the candidates.) The tent was filled to overflowing at 2:30 o'clock to hear mission work as explained by Misses Farr and Lovelace, two young girls, who have consecrated their lives to African Mission work. In a few years, as soon as their education for the work is completed, they will leave their pleasant homes, their friends, their beloved America, and sail for darkest Africa where their lives will be spent in the Master's work. It was a touching service and long to be remembered by those present. With tears, many, many, in the congregation went forward and laid an offering on the bible, the first missionary offering from Edge Hill—but by God's grace not the last. The good resulting from this meeting by those devoted workers will be felt in this part of God's moral heritage for years. With heartfelt thanks and hand-claps we wish them God speed in their chosen work, wherever it may be. TIMOTHY HAY.

Lesterville Items.

There will be a grand picnic on July 4th at Lesterville under the auspices of the Modern Woodmen Lodge of this place and every effort is being put forth by the committee to make it a very enjoyable affair. The services of the Lesterville Cornet Band have been secured for the occasion.

Mr. C. A. White has returned from his northern trip, and although the trip was a business one he reports having had a very pleasant time.

W. A. Vandill, who has just finished a course at the Cream City Business College Milwaukee, Wis., has returned to Lesterville, having graduated with high honors. Will is certainly looking fine and the northern climate must have agreed with him.

Mrs. C. A. White, accompanied by her two sons, George and Cary, returned from a trip to St. Louis, where they visited Mrs. White's daughter, Mrs. Chas. Good.

The Lesterville base ball team played a game of ball with their old antagonists from Centerville, and while the result was a little disastrous for the local nine, they still feel confident of their ability to vanquish the team from our neighboring town.

We are receiving numerous visits from the numerous candidates for county offices and there are certainly a large number who feel called to sacrifice themselves for the good of the county, there being several candidates for each of the offices in the gift of the people, the most numerous being nine candidates for the office of Collector.

Mr. D. L. Rivers, a prominent attorney of Elvins, Mo., who has been in very poor health for several months, following an attack of pneumonia, is stopping at the hotel of M. E. Goggin, thinking that the Black River air will do him good. Judging from the result of his first week's stay in our valley he has come to the right place as he seems very much improved.

Don C. Magruder, a graduate of the Agricultural Department of the State University, and now an employee of the government Department of Agriculture, spent a short time with us during the past week. Mr. Magruder is studying the different systems of farm management, by individual farmers throughout this section, and is prepared to offer suggestions which the Department of Agriculture has found, through experiments, to be helpful and profitable to the farmer.
